THE "RECOGNITION" OF CHINA

Resolution Passes in Favor of a Promotion Bureau in New York City.

(From Saturday's Advertiser.)

A universal brotherhood dinner, a symposium of addresses on world peace and friendship, with Hawaii constantly brought forward as a "racial melting pot" in which is being solved the greatest of all human problems, was the Hands-Around-the-Pacific dinner last night at the headquarters of the Japanese Primary School on Nuuanu avenue. Amid loud applause the Rev. F. W. Damon caught up some remarks of Governor Frear about the new Republic of China and called them the "first American official recognition" of the new government—giving the executive's statements a significance he undoubtedly did not intend. The various speakers, from mainland America, from China, Japan and Canada and representative of the large Latin population in these Islands, joined in a series of striking after dinner addresses, on international friendship. The visiting tourists, who formed a large proportion of the gathering, were given food for thought in the showing of an attitude of fellowship among the races that was new to some of them, and they were heard to say after the meeting that not even the scenery of Hawaii, the Floral Parade and the trip here equalled in interest the gathering of last night, with its vital showing of the workings of the "sociological laboratory of the world"—Hawaii.

Governor Frear presided, and with him were seated General M. M. Macomb, Admiral Walter C. Cowles, President E. I. Spaulding of the chamber of commerce and Alexander Hume Ford, the "live wire" and organizer of the occasion.

There were over three hundred persons present at the gathering, a large proportion being visitors from widely separated parts of the world. After all had enjoyed—some with considerable difficulty—the features of a Chinese menu, Governor Frear in a short and happily worded address introduced the topic of the evening, telling of the organization of the "Hands-Around" club by the two live wires—Alexander Hume Ford and Percy Hunter of Australia. Ford responded with a speech in which he offered a resolution, unanimously adopted after a second by J. P. Cooke, favoring an organization to establish a Pan-Pacific building in New York. Then the speechmaking drew to a close.

China Spoke First.

The Governor remarked that Australia came first on the list alphabetically, but that he would call for the first address upon the table at which sat the representatives of another nation, now experiencing a new birth, and the Rev. F. W. Damon responded for the Chinese table, at which sat many well known local Chinese-Americans.

Mr. Damon said that he had been asked by President Ming of the Chinese United Society to respond for the Chinese. "I consider it a great honor to speak," he said, "for the mighty land to which the Governor has first given his splendid official recognition. The Republic of China is as yet not acknowledged officially otherwise, but it is acknowledged in the hearts of the American people, which respond to its ideals, and that is the highest acknowledgment of all."

With much oratorical force and enthusiasm Mr. Damon referred to Dr. Sun Yat Sen as a Honolulu product, and loud applause greeted the reference. "If another succeeds him as ruler," said the speaker, "it is because he feels the force of the motto of his ancestors of ages ago—it is better to be a bit of jade broken than to be a perfect tile."

The Rev. Mr. Damon gave the motto in the original Chinese, and again in English, and when he closed with an eloquent tribute to the man who has made a new nation of the vast empire of the Far East—a young man who was a pupil of the speaker—there was loud applause.

Japan Spoke Next.

Editor Sheba of the Hawaii Shinpo was next called upon by the Governor. His address was interrupted repeatedly by rounds of applause.

"As I stand here to speak I feel as if I am one of the passengers in a ship bound on a delightful voyage," he said. "We are all fellow passengers in the same boat, pulling together for the prosperity of Hawaii and for the peace and happiness of all races of the world that commingle here."

"Hands-Around-the-Pacific, we stand hand in hand regardless of race and color, to spread the gospel of peace and brotherhood to the shores washed by the blue waters of the Pacific Ocean."

"A few days ago I happened to meet a friend on a street car when we discussed the price of land. The friend praised the climate, the sunshine, the shower, the perpetual summer of Hawaii, but, above all, he mentioned the hospitality of the people, the kindness of women—and I know that women-folk are always kind, God bless them—and men never quarrel here except in newspapers and during political canvasses."

"The reputation of kindness, which Hawaii enjoys, brings more people to this shore—and Hawaii's needs are few

FIRST COMPLETE PRESS WIRELESS CAME FROM SAN FRANCISCO, FOR THE ADVERTISER LAST NIGHT

AVIATORS OUTDOING PREVIOUS EFFORTS

(By Direct Wireless, San Francisco to Kahuku.)

SAN FRANCISCO, February 23.—Before a record crowd which filled every available space in the Emeryville track nine aviators, unmindful of the disaster which has overtaken two of their number since the meet began, are whirling and tumbling through space performing heretofore unheard of antics in their efforts to make Ely Day the most memorable one of the present meet.

ENGLAND DISTURBED OVER COAL STRIKE

(By Direct Wireless, San Francisco to Kahuku.)

LONDON, February 23.—Mixed feeling prevails today by those directly interested in the coal trade disturbances, while a great majority of the general public finds it hard to believe that such a national calamity as a national strike of coal miners involving nearly 100,000 men, will take place. It is public opinion that there will be a strike in the near future.

INDIANAPOLIS, February 23.—Arrangements were completed by the government today for the arraignment on March 12 of the men indicted in the dynamite conspiracy cases.

CHINESE STUDENTS ATTACKED ON COAST

(By Direct Wireless, San Francisco to Kahuku.)

PORTLAND, February 23.—Two students were attacked in Chinatown tonight. The death of one is certain and the other is seriously injured. The latter crime, in the opinion of the police, is a tong affair.

except men and women to people the land. Let them come from the east and from the west into this melting pot of the Pacific, and from this center let us stretch our hands of peace and brotherhood to the four corners of the world. This mission God destined us to perform is attainable through an assimilation of races here socially, morally, and economically. As to us, the Japanese of Hawaii, we wish to cooperate with you in every way.

"Speaking of the parade of last night, a paper commented that the volume of cheers and enthusiasm that went up from the Japanese crowd at the Executive ground and at the harbor was inspiring and surprising. Yes, it was inspiring enough; but why surprising, I do not know. Ever since Commodore Perry opened our door to the new civilization, we have never entertained feeling towards the United States of America other than that of profound love and respect; and as to the Japanese of Hawaii, who can question our sincerity that saw the last night's parade? It is our hope that we can always cooperate with you for the prosperity of the Territory."

Unlimited Tourist Business.

The speaker for Washington, referred to Dr. Sun Yat Sen as a Honolulu product and said that anything might be expected of a community that could send forth such a man. "The main thing you need here is transportation," he said, "and people. If you had the necessary transportation and the people here, this would be the garden spot of the world. The great necessity is quicker travel. With steamers capable of making a four-day trip, you might have the islands full of Washingtonians."

Hawaii Heard From.

L. L. McCandless was called on by the Governor to say a few words for Hawaii, and expressed his pleasure at the opportunity to extend an aloha to all. He said Hawaii had much to do, blending all her various peoples into one harmonious whole, but that it was hoped that the result would show success. He also referred to the new Chinese nation and the "Sun" of Honolulu who had made it possible. Referring to the Washington speaker's remarks about needing more people here he said that there should be a ship subsidy to develop steamship business. "All the countries bordering on the Pacific should work for this," said the Democratic leader.

Canada Rouses Everybody.

For Canada's table, A. Allan was asked to respond. He began by remarking that he wasn't going to say anything. But he soon became eloquent about the beauties of Hawaii and everybody applauded when he said he had come here to stay two weeks and was going to stay six months. He also told of the beauties and attractions of Canada. "Thousands of Americans are settling in my country every year," he said, "and they are becoming first class citizens." For a few seconds the applause and laughter were very loud. Mr. Allan said that Hawaii ought to advertise in Canada. He told of the winters and the hardships, and of the millions of people who do not know of the perpetually charming islands of the mid-Pacific. He thought advertising on an unlimited scale would pay.

California's Speaker Democratic.

As the California speaker, Mr. Frawley, was introduced by Governor Frear with some apt humorous remarks, the gentleman from California expressed himself as much impressed by the heterogeneous nature of the gathering, and declared himself a democrat—spelled with a small d—to the utmost limit. Hence he was glad to see the people commingling as they are in Hawaii.

For the South.

Hon. A. S. Humphreys spoke for the Southern States. In eloquent terms he followed the theme of the evening. He complimented the Governor, and much applause, on a policy under which there was an open field of opportunity for all classes, regardless of race, religion or caste.

Other Speakers.

John M. Giles spoke for Australia, telling of his land as a big country little populated, and saying that within the next ten years it was going to be filled up.

Hawaii and Portugal.

For the Latin-American table, J. E. Rocha made a very fine address. Comparing the new Republic in China with the new Republic in his own native land, he said that if the impulse that made China a Republic came from Honolulu, so did in large measure the movement that made a new nation of Portugal. It was communicated by the people of his race who had settled here and learned the lessons of free government.

Leslie Butler spoke for Oregon. He predicted that Hawaii would soon have fifteen thousand tourists, instead of fifteen hundred, and paid a high compliment to the Islands.

The last speaker was the Rev. Robert E. Smith, who was at the Malihini table and took occasion to object to being so placed. Since he had climbed the Needle in Iao valley—or most of it—with Doctor Scudder and Ford, he thought he was entitled to classification as a kamaaina. He delivered an eloquent and at times humorous address, closing with a remark that the idea that made the current of the evening speeches, of universal brotherhood, had its birth "with the Master of us all."

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY IN AFRICA.

Mr. Piet A. Uys, of Lelieveld, Orange River Colony, testifies to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says: "We have used it several times for our children and ourselves and expect to continue with it as we found it excellent. We can recommend it to anybody in the world." There is nothing better for children. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

NATIONS STEP IN TO REGULATE WIRELESS

WASHINGTON, February 23.—International wireless treaty agreed upon by twenty-six nations at Berlin convention probably will be ratified by the senate on Monday. It will give priority transmission to ships in distress and compel interchange of emergency messages between different systems.

FEARFUL MASSACRE IN BLOODY CHINA

(By Direct Wireless, San Francisco to Kahuku.)

SHANGHAI, February 23.—Wholesale slaughter of the Tibetans by Chinese troops is reported in a dispatch received here today. The troops, according to the report fearing the return of the Grand Lama would precipitate a general uprising, massacred all Tibetans, including women and children, near the frontier.

FIRST COMPLETE WIRELESS PRESS DESPATCHES TO COME FROM THE COAST

Operator Maddams, of the Kahuku wireless station, was in complete touch with the mainland stations last night, receiving the wireless despatches published above, which were telephoned to The Advertiser about eleven o'clock. These are the first press messages received in Honolulu from the Coast, with the exception of some fragmentary despatches caught some time ago and published in the afternoon papers, although for some weeks the local station has been conversing freely with San Francisco at night and exchanging messages of various sorts.

J. A. Balch, manager of the Hawaiian wireless system, is now on the Coast for the purpose of making arrangements for a regular commercial use of the wireless in Coast to Honolulu business.

It may be that the despatches printed this morning by The Advertiser are to be the first of a regular news service by wireless, a service that will be cheaper, and consequently fuller, than that now received by regular cable.

The Advertiser is looking for an opportunity to publish much more of the world's news as it occurs. Under the circumstances of cost its enlarged cable service has reached the limit for the time being, but if this service can be supplemented by wireless, the benefit all round will be felt.

The messages above came as they are printed from the San Francisco station of the United Wireless, and their transmission across the two thousand miles of ocean took ten minutes time on the part of the operators.

KONA COFFEE GROWERS ASK FOR SOME STRENUOUS MEASURES AGAINST FRUIT FLY

The residents of Kona district, Hawaii, are much disturbed over the threatened invasion of their lands by the Mediterranean fly, which has appeared in Kohala, and at a conference held in Governor Frear's office yesterday, it developed that they want the most strenuous measures possible taken to protect them from the pest. The fly attacks coffee trees, and Kona nearly lives on the products of her coffee. "If the fly gets in among the Kona coffee trees, it will be goodbye to Kona prosperity," said Attorney-General Lindsay yesterday after the conference in the Governor's office. "You can't blame the Kona people for being scared and wanting the most vigorous measures possible taken."

W. M. Giffard, Land Commissioner

Judd and Lindsay were at the conference in the executive chambers, at which the topic of discussion was the means of preventing the pest from spreading from Kohala to other parts of the Big Island. It was agreed that new regulations should be made, and Attorney-General Lindsay is now at work upon them, to restrict the sending of fruits and plants from Kohala to other parts of the island of Hawaii.

"The rules will be made as drastic as the law allows," said Attorney-General Lindsay. "It is recognized as a serious proposition to Kona's main industry—coffee—and to all the rest of the Island of Hawaii, that this pest should have got to the island at all. Kona is really agitated over the matter, and citizens resident there want strenuous measures taken."

DEMOCRATS SKIRMISH A BIT AMONG THEMSELVES—ONE-CONVENTION PLAN CARRIED

There was a slight clashing of leaders in the Democratic meeting hall last night, L. L. McCandless, who hopes to be nominated for Delegate to Congress, and B. G. Rivenburgh, the mayor's secretary, finding themselves in opposition over a proposal to leave the date of the nominating convention to the chair. It was just a flash in the pan, but the sparks indicated that there may be more serious clashings a little later.

There appears to be no more certainty of complete Democratic harmony than there is hope for Republican harmony. Factions in the Democratic ranks, particularly in the Democratic county committee, are watching things in which McCandless is particularly interested, and it said that some of the members are preparing to unsheath their knives for Jarrett.

The principal business at last night's meeting was the consideration of a resolution, offered at a former meeting, which calls for the holding of the nominating precinct meetings, primary elections and conventions of the Republican and Democratic parties on the same dates. The resolution also says that the candidate for Delegate to Congress shall be nominated at the convention for the election of delegates to the National Democratic Convention. The resolution originally set April 15 for the convention, but owing to opposition, was passed minus the date the chairman being authorized to call the convention not less than six weeks before the convention in Baltimore is to meet.

The resolution, copies of which had been sent to precinct organizations on other islands, did not meet with the unanimity expected by T. J. Ryan, the author. One of the strongest protests came from Hilo. Fifteen replies came from the thirty-seven queries sent out, and the committee felt that the trend of the comments was sufficiently favorable to adopt the two-convention plan.

"After You," Says Ryan.

Mr. Ryan said that in any event the Democrats had the Republicans in a corner when it came to announcing dates, and the latter would have to speak first. Ryan was strongly in favor of holding the Democratic convention simultaneously with that of the Republicans, and also the nominating precinct meetings and primary elections, saying that this would stop the Republicans from "doing too much manipulating with voters."

A statement to the effect that the county clerk had been supplying Republican headquarters with a duplicate copy of the names on the Great Register aroused the wrath of Mr. McCandless. He wanted to know why this was being done, and if so, why the Democrats had not been similarly provided. He moved that Mr. Rivenburgh be appointed a committee of one to make an investigation immediately. Mr. McCandless, also wanted to ascertain whether the Inter-Island steamship company has been in the habit of

SHIPS NEEDED, NOT ECONOMY --TAFT

Frugality Has No Place in Naval
Policy at Present Time, Says
Chief Executive.

TWO BATTLESHIPS WANTED

President Comes Out Strongly in Favor of Fixed-Building Policy.

WASHINGTON, February 24.—In a stirring speech yesterday, President Taft announced in plain words that the present was no time in which to be economical in the appropriations for the Navy.

Much depends upon the size of the Navy in the United States at the present and the number of ships and their equipment will have much to do with the strength of the country in the councils of the world powers, declared the President, severely condemning the decision of the Democratic majority in the house to curtail the shipbuilding program. The President closed his address with a plea for a definite program for the construction of at least two battleships each year.

MADERO IS CLASSED AS GRINGO LOVER

EL PASO, February 24.—That Madero is a "gringo lover" is the text of a proclamation just made across the border and which bears the signature of General Orozco and many other revolutionary leaders. By its terms General Geronimo Trevino is named as president ad interim.

According to reports from Juarez many rebels are moving on the city and people of this city are appealing to Secretary of War Stimson to send more troops here as Juarez is believed in danger of capture. Two hundred and fifty-seven Vasquistas were killed in a battle at Torreon on Sunday according to a report from reliable authority which has been received here.

TRIPOLI FORMALLY ANNEXED TO ITALY

ROME, February 24.—The chamber of deputies has passed a resolution formally annexing 200,000 square miles of Tripoli, the premier being acclaimed when the resolution was presented. After this action the deputies marched to the royal palace and were received by the King and Queen with the Crown Prince. The latter was greeted with an ovation, it being his first appearance at any formal state function.
